

Breakfast

Do You Wanna Do Nothing With Me?

The song expresses a lighthearted and affectionate sentiment about wanting to 'do nothing' with someone special. The lyrics convey a sense of comfort and contentment in simply spending time together in a relaxed way. The overall tone is playful and loving. The chorus 'Do you wanna do nothing with me' is strong.

Alibi

The song expresses a playful and affectionate sentiment about wanting to stay with someone. The lyrics convey a sense of wanting to create an 'alibi' to avoid other commitments and spend time with the person they love. The overall tone is lighthearted and romantic, but still committed to the course.

Play Around

The song expresses a mix of frustration and determination to overcome negative feelings. The lyrics convey a sense of wanting to find a new sound and move on from a difficult situation. Phrases like 'no longer feelin' down' and 'find it in a tune' is balanced with the loss.

Me & You

The song expresses a sense of confusion, loss, and regret in a relationship. The lyrics convey a feeling of wanting to understand what went wrong and if there's a chance to change things. The repetition of 'Tell me baby' and the questioning tone indicate a negative sentiment and a desire for answers.

Where It Started From

The song has a reflective and uncertain sentiment about the future of a relationship. The lyrics convey a sense of wanting to return to a previous state, but not knowing if it's possible or desirable. The questioning tone and lack of resolution indicate a neutral sentiment. It neither expresses strong sentiment.

Cold

The song expresses feelings of coldness, isolation, and growing frailty. The lyrics convey a strong sense of discomfort and the desire for connection. The repetition of 'I'm cold as hell' and 'It don't feel well' clearly indicates a negative sentiment.

Shot

The song expresses feelings of insecurity, uncertainty, and being used in a relationship. The lyrics convey a sense of vulnerability and questioning whether the other person is genuine. The repetition of 'But do I have a shot?' indicates a negative sentiment and a desire for validation.

Come On, Brother

The song expresses a bittersweet sentiment about saying goodbye, but it focuses on the importance of staying connected and supporting each other. The lyrics convey a sense of love, reassurance, and hope for the future. The overall tone is positive and comforting.

Wash Away

The song expresses regret, sadness, and loss after a relationship ends. The lyrics convey a sense of wanting to turn back time and fix mistakes. Phrases like 'I'll admit, it was fun for a bit / But now that it's done / Well it ain't worth the pain' and 'I watched it all wash away' indicate a negative sentiment.

Misty Morning

The song expresses a sense of missing someone and longing to be with them. The lyrics convey a feeling of nostalgia and regret for not being able to stay. Phrases like 'hard to say goodbye', 'wish that I could stay with you', and 'I will be missing you' indicate a negative sentiment and a sense of loss.

Superficial

The song expresses a critical and sarcastic sentiment towards those who write songs about being wronged by others and then become successful. The lyrics convey a sense of judging and mocking those who become 'superficial' after gaining fame. The tone is somewhat cynical and accusatory, so very negative.

Oh No

The song expresses sadness and rejection in love. The lyrics convey a sense of loss, as well as the ending of a friendship, 'Oh no, oh no'. It has a very negative tone as the situation spirals downwards.

Family Business

Whatcha Want

The song expresses a mix of emotions, from wanting to connect to feeling frustrated and overwhelmed. The repetition of 'Tell me what you want, tell me what you need' suggests a desire for clarity and resolution. Some negativity is present, but the overall tone seems questioning and searching rather than purely negative.

Guy I Used To Be

The song expresses a positive sentiment. It uses phrases like 'taking me higher', 'I want you, I need you, I got you', and 'I'll never be happy without you'. It talks about saying goodbye to the past and embracing a new life centered around the person they love. There's an element of joy and excitement in finding this person.

Do

The lyrics promote a carefree attitude, encouraging listeners to let go of worries and inhibitions. Phrases like 'We got nothing to lose,' 'Don't worry about what's at stake,' and 'just let it fly' create a positive and uplifting mood. The repetition of 'Do do do do do' adds to the lightheartedness.

Something In The Water

The song expresses feelings of discontent and questioning. The lyrics suggest a sense of unease and a struggle to understand why others seem content while the singer feels like something is missing. Phrases like 'I hate that I gotta,' 'I'm afraid I would just disappoint 'em,' and 'What spell are they under?' convey a negative sentiment and a sense of disconnect.

Hip Replacement

The song has a strong positive sentiment. The repeated lines 'I don't need a hip replacement, I'm doing just fine' show contentment and confidence. The lyrics are about embracing who you are and not feeling the need to change. The message is upbeat and self-affirming.

i'm confident that i'm insecure

The song expresses negative sentiment related to insecurity and self-doubt. Phrases like 'I think I need to go to therapy,' 'I'm confident that I'm insecure,' and 'my brain tells me to eat a bag of dicks' clearly indicate negative emotions. While there's an element of self-awareness, the overall tone is one of struggle and vulnerability.

Promotion

The song expresses a strong desire for a promotion and financial stability. While there's ambition and a sense of striving, the lyrics don't necessarily convey a strong positive or negative emotion. It's more about the need to improve one's circumstances. It leans slightly positive due to the ambition but there's a degree of desperation too.

23

The song expresses disappointment and sadness. The lyrics revolve around a broken promise and the pain of saying goodbye. Phrases like 'At 23 you said goodbye,' 'Worst day,' and 'Tears on my birthday' clearly indicate negative emotions and a sense of loss.

Circle Back

The song expresses a sense of being overwhelmed and needing to prioritize personal life over work. The singer expresses a desire to 'circle back' to responsibilities but prefers spending time with a loved one. It's a neutral sentiment, leaning slightly positive due to the value placed on personal relationships.

Death of Me

The song expresses a negative sentiment related to burnout and the fear of slowing down. Phrases like 'Life is gonna be the death of me,' 'I'm so afraid of slowing down,' and 'I don't want to burn out' clearly indicate negative emotions and a sense of being overwhelmed by the pressures of life.

Funeral

The song describes attending one's own funeral, expressing regret and sadness. Lyrics such as 'I cried at my own funeral,' 'I felt every heart I'd broken,' and 'the words I should have spoken' convey a strong negative sentiment and a sense of remorse.

Family Business

The song has an overall positive sentiment, celebrating a unique and welcoming 'family business.' The lyrics encourage listeners to join in and feel at home, despite its unconventional nature. The tone is lighthearted and inclusive, with a hint of nostalgia for the temporary nature of things, but also about being in a comforting presence.

Conflict Resolution

The song includes spoken word elements with both sentimental and reflective tones, discussing family relationships and business ethics. The musical portion conveys a desire to reconcile and 'get it right' in a relationship. Overall, it's a balanced sentiment. It's a reflection with positive intentions and some sadness but resolves to fix it.

Homesick

Wake Up

The song expresses a sense of confusion and wanting to understand someone's true feelings. The lyrics convey a feeling of uncertainty and trying to decode hidden messages. The questioning tone and lack of resolution indicate a neutral sentiment. It neither leans one way or the other.

Homesick

The song expresses a sense of homesickness and finding comfort in a relationship. The lyrics convey a feeling of gratitude and appreciation for someone who makes the singer feel at home. Although homesick, their partner makes them feel better.

Columbus Avenue

The song expresses a romantic and affectionate sentiment about spending time with someone special in the city. The lyrics convey a sense of joy and contentment in simply walking and talking together. The overall tone is lighthearted and loving, which is great.

So Damn Fast

The song expresses a sense of nostalgia, regret, and sadness about things changing and moving on. The lyrics convey a feeling of wanting to hold onto the past and fearing the future. Phrases like 'I was wrong', 'world as I knew it, it all is gone', and 'time flies by me so damn fast' indicate a negative sentiment and a sense of loss.

Oranges

The song is about the idea that it's not oranges, it's about the need to be creative, take risks, and explore new possibilities. The lyrics convey a sense of curiosity and a desire to break free from convention. It's open in possibilities and leans positive, but can be slightly negative.

Hall-Crossed Lovers

The song has a sentiment with longing and hope, expressing a desire for a 'hall-crossed' romance with someone who lives across the hall. The lyrics convey a sense of shyness and admiration for the other person. The overall tone is somewhat romantic, with both strong and weak positions.

One More Time

The song expresses a desperate plea for another chance in a relationship. The lyrics convey a sense of regret and a strong desire to rewind and start over. The repetitive request for 'one more time' clearly indicates a negative sentiment, there's obvious loss.

Hotel TV

Don't Lose Sight

The song expresses frustration and disillusionment with the music industry. The artist sings about feeling sick of 'make-believe' and the 'ups and downs', and checking prices on 'giving up', showing negativity and a struggle to stay motivated. However, the repeating 'Don't lose sight' gives a hopeful intention to stay the course.

Hotel TV

The song conveys a somewhat bittersweet feeling of longing for connection while being physically distant. Phrases like 'I wish that I could see you cause it's been a minute' and 'But it doesn't feel the same' indicate a sense of missing someone. The references to TV shows add a touch of nostalgia and familiarity, which is slightly positive, but overall it's a longing sentiment.

Jet Lag

The song expresses a bittersweet sentiment about distance and separation, but it emphasizes the commitment to maintain the relationship. Despite the challenges, the lyrics focus on the effort and willingness to overcome the distance. The overall tone is positive, leaning towards hope and dedication.

Casualty

The song describes being in a personal 'war' with one's history, leading to a sense of insecurity and potentially harming others. The use of 'casualty' and 'apology' indicates a negative sentiment, expressing the impact on relationships.

Freckles

This song has a positive sentiment. The lyrics express a journey towards self-acceptance and embracing one's natural features. The message is uplifting and encourages listeners to ignore negative self-criticism and appreciate their unique qualities. 'You know you're beautiful' is direct.

Thoughts from the ER (Silver Lining)

This song expresses a sense of loss and grief. The lyrics convey a feeling of darkness and struggle to find hope. Phrases like 'the sky is at its darkest' and 'I can't seem to find a little thread of silver lining' indicates a negative sentiment.

It's Not All About You

The song has a negative sentiment directed towards someone who talks excessively about themselves. The lyrics express frustration and annoyance with someone who dominates conversations and lacks self-awareness. The repetitive lines, 'It's not all about you,' clearly express a negative sentiment.

Don't Move

The song expresses a sense of longing and fear of loss in a relationship. The lyrics convey a feeling of uncertainty and wanting someone to stay. Phrases like 'something gloomy', 'ex, Rae, if we're not together', and 'might be leaving' suggests the singer is sad.

It's Gonna Be Me

The song expresses confidence and determination in winning someone's love. The lyrics convey a sense of inevitability and certainty that the other person will eventually fall in love with the singer. The repetition of 'It's gonna be me' reinforces the positive sentiment.

The Weather

The song expresses longing and sadness for a past relationship. The lyrics convey a sense of distance and the difficulty of moving on. Phrases like 'even when the sky is grey, I'm feeling blue' and 'A part of me will always be in love with you' indicate a negative sentiment and a sense of loss.

False Alarms

The song expresses frustration and disappointment with repeated 'false alarms' in pursuing a goal. It conveys a sense of being close to success but constantly falling short. Some parts also express ambition, so overall it leans slightly negative.

Figure It Out (A Song Between Siblings)

The song expresses feelings of regret, insecurity, and sadness. The lyrics convey a sense of apologizing for crying and saying things that were not meant. Phrases like 'I'm sorry that I cry a lot' and 'I hate to make you insecure' indicates a negative sentiment, a vulnerable one.

Living Room

More

The song expresses a sense of being weighed down and insecure about the future. It conveys a feeling of uncertainty and searching for something. Phrases like 'never felt so insecure' and 'don't know what I'm searching for' are quite negative.

Friend or Enemy

The song expresses mixed feelings towards someone, questioning whether they are a friend or enemy. The lyrics convey a sense of insecurity and not being able to trust the other person. The refrain 'Woe is me' and the questioning tone indicate a negative sentiment, but balanced.

Whoever You Are

The song has a hopeful sentiment, expressing anticipation and a desire to meet someone special. The lyrics convey a sense of patience and willingness to wait for the right person. The overall tone is gentle and optimistic. Although fearful, the intent is positive.

Make a Move

The song expresses a sense of wanting to take initiative and express interest in someone, but being held back by social norms and hesitation. The lyrics convey a feeling of impatience and frustration with the 'game' of dating. A slight positive spin can be interpreted.

Try

The song expresses a sense of disappointment and struggling to make a relationship work. The lyrics convey a feeling of frustration and wondering why things are so difficult. Phrases like 'near doesn't cut it', 'try so hard', and 'something's got a hold on me' indicates a negative sentiment.

Try (Reprise)

The song repeats the lines 'And I'll say... whatever you want me to say / And I'll be... whoever you want me to be', which indicates a willingness to conform to someone else's desires. This suggests a neutral sentiment, lacking a strong positive or negative emotion. It neither expresses strong emotion.

The Heartburn Song

The song has a supportive and reassuring sentiment, telling someone that 'It's gonna be alright' after getting hurt. The lyrics convey a sense of empathy and offering guidance, but also has a hint of a lesson being learned. The overall tone is positive.

Almost Grown

The song expresses frustration and weariness with ongoing conflict and disagreements. The lyrics convey a sense of wanting to resolve issues and move forward, but being stuck in a cycle of 'fightin' words' and 'hurlin' stones'. It leans negative due to the friction mentioned.

Probably Up

The song expresses a lighthearted and supportive sentiment about being available for others at unconventional hours. The lyrics convey a sense of embracing one's unique schedule and being there for those who need it. The overall tone is friendly and comforting. It mentions lazyness, but dismisses it.

Too Easy

The song expresses feelings of insecurity and unease about a relationship. The lyrics convey a sense of being undervalued and questioning the other person's commitment. Phrases like 'jump the ship so quick', 'a little too easy', and 'A-side for a B-side kind of girl' indicate a negative sentiment and a sense of imbalance.

Limbo

The song expresses frustration and uncertainty about a relationship that is in 'limbo'. The lyrics convey a sense of wanting clarity and commitment, but feeling stuck in a state of indecision. Phrases like 'sick of all these labels' and 'always take it slow' indicate a negative sentiment and a desire for resolution.

The Last Song

The song expresses a sense of finality and moving on from a relationship. The lyrics convey a mix of sadness and determination to start anew. Phrases like 'final song', 'say goodbye', and 'start anew' indicate the intent to leave it behind. It still lingers on it, but intent seems final.

And Many More

The song repeats the word 'more' followed by the line, 'But then there were no more / Now I'm longing for'. It has a very negative association with the state of things.